PARENTS MUST LIVE IT

Alan Smith

At one point during the game, the coach said to one of his little players, "Do you understand what cooperation is and what teamwork is all about?" The little boy nodded.

"Do you understand that what really matters is not whether we win or lose, but that we play together as a team?" The little boy nodded again.

"Good," the coach continued. "And, when a strike is called, or you're thrown out at first, you don't argue, curse, attack the umpire with a bat, or throw dirt in the opposing team members' faces. Do you understand all that?"

The little boy said, "Well, sure, coach. That's what you taught us."

"Good," said the coach. "Now, please go over there and explain all that to your mother."

I've been to a few Little League games when the above conversation needed to take place. It's sad to see parents who act in an irresponsible manner, for they are teaching their children (and others' children) to behave in a similar manner.

God has given those of us who are parents an awesome responsibility—not only to teach our children what is right, but also to live in such a way that they can see that we are willing to practice what we've been teaching them to do.

Moses told the parents of Israel to take the laws which God had given them and "teach them diligently unto thy children" (Deuteronomy 6:7). But before telling parents to do that, he warned them: "Hear therefore, O Israel, and observe to do it" (Deuteronomy 6:3).

Before we can teach the love of God to our children and others, it must be in our own hearts. May God bless all parents as each strives to do just that. May your life be so filled with a desire to follow God, that your children will listen to all you have to say to them.

"Be ye followers of me... as I also am of Christ." 1 Corinthians 11:1

A MERRY HEART DOETH GOOD...

RESPECT FOR MOM

While the soldiers stood at attention during a parade, a private waved to someone in the audience. "Jones, never do that again!" the drill instructor whispered. But a few minutes later, the soldier waved a second time. Back in the barracks after the parade, the DI stormed in and barked for Jones to come front and center. "Son, you knew I was going to see you," he screamed. "You knew it was wrong. Aren't you afraid of me?"

"Yes, sir!" replied Jones. "But you don't know my mother!"

RESPECT FOR DAD?

The children begged for a hamster, and after the usual fervent vows that they alone would care for it, they got one.

They named it Danny. Two months later, when Mom found herself responsible for cleaning and feeding the creature, she located a prospective new home for it.

The children took the news of Danny's imminent departure quite well, though one of them remarked, "He's been around here a long time. We'll miss him."

"Yes," Mom replied, "But he's too much work for one person, and since I'm that one person, I say he goes."

Another child offered, "Well, maybe if he wouldn't eat so much and wouldn't be so messy, we could keep him."

But Mom was firm. "It's time to take Danny to his new home now," she insisted. "Go and get his cage."

With one voice and in tearful outrage the children shouted, "Danny? We thought you said Daddy!"

LESSONS IN LEADERSHIP

STOP
NOW The famous engineer and inventor, Robert Fulton, returned to America from Paris in 1805 to test his invention of the steamship.

In 1807, he was ready to take the steamship Claremont on a trial run up the Hudson River between New York City and Albany.

In the excited crowd watching the proceedings, there was a negative, pessimistic, doubtful old man. While preparations were made to start, the old man kept repeating, "They won't ever get her started." The steamship, however, was started, and began its trip up the river to the cheers of the crowd. The doubter was then heard to say, "They won't ever get her stopped."

There are two kinds of doubters: the active, investigative doubters who are willing to study evidences before reaching a conclusion, and the lazy, prejudicial doubters who are unwilling to consider any possible evidences.

Be a good doubter. Consider the reasons you should believe the Bible and be a member of the church of which you read therein.
